Detailed Action

The following is responsive to applicant's amendment received Feb. 23, 2004.

Claims 1-3, 6-8, 13 are cancelled. No new claims are added. Claims 4, 5, 9-12, 14, 15 are currently pending.

All previous rejections of claims 9-10 set forth in paragraphs 1-3 of the office action mailed Dec. 17, 2003 are withdrawn in view of applicant's amendment and the remarks contained therein.

However, the indication of allowability of claims 4, 5, 11, 12, 14, 15 is withdrawn in view of newly discovered prior art.

New Ground(s) of Rejection

Claims Rejection(s)—35 USC 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

1. Claims 4, 5, 9-12, 14, 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Guthrie et al., 6,251,400 B1.

Guthrie et al. disclose a method of treating individuals suffering from neoplastic diseases, hypercholesterolemia or cardiovascular diseases or a method of treating individuals at a high risk for developing neoplasias or hypercholesterolemia by administering to the individual a compositions comprising polyphenolic flavonoid citrus compounds such as tangeretin or nobiletin which are extracted from tangerines. Please see the abstract; col. 1, lines 60-65; col. 5, lines 9-56; col. 7, lines 20-23; col. 13, lines 4-10.

The claims are anticipated by Guthrie et al. because Guthrie et al. teach administration of an identical composition containing an extract from tangerines (nobiletin or tangeretin) to a subject using applicant's claimed method steps. Therefore, extension of neurites and treatment of encephalic ischemia would be inherent.

Concerning claims 11 and 14, contact with neurocytes is inherent in the methods of Guthrie et al., since contact would also be achieved subsequent to the administration of the citrus compounds to the a subject.

Finally, concerning Guthrie's disclosure of additional compounds such as tocotrienols, please note that the claims recite "comprising" language. According to the MPEP 2111.03, "[t]he transitional term "comprising", which is synonymous with "including," "containing," or "characterized by," is inclusive or open-ended and does not exclude additional, unrecited elements or method steps. See, e.g., > Invitrogen Corp. v. Biocrest Mfg., L.P., 327 F.3d 1364, 1368, 66 USPQ2d 1631, 1634 (Fed. Cir. 2003) ("The transition comprising' in a method claim indicates that the claim is open-ended and allows for additional steps.");< Genentech, Inc. v. Chiron Corp., 112 F.3d 495, 501, 42 USPQ2d 1608, 1613 (Fed. Cir. 1997) ("Comprising" is a term of art used in claim language which means that the named elements are essential, but other elements may be added and still form a construct within the scope of the claim.); Moleculon Research

Corp. v. CBS, Inc., 793 F.2d 1261, 229 USPQ 805 (Fed. Cir. 1986); In re Baxter, 656 F.2d 679, 686, 210 USPQ 795, 803 (CCPA 1981); Ex parte Davis, 80 USPQ 448, 450 (Bd. App. 1948) ("comprising" leaves "the claim open for the inclusion of unspecified ingredients even in major amounts"). In this case, the claims do not exclude the additional compounds, i.e. tocotrienols, disclosed by Guthrie et al.

Conclusion

Claims 4, 5, 9-12, 14, 15 are rejected.
